BUHERA BASKET NO.7 - WHITEWASH

Item Code: BUH7G

Originating from Zimbabwe, each basket is woven by the women of the Buhera region, who follow a never-changing traditional weaving process, requiring a hole dug in the ground, to lower the working area and help give the baskets their shape. The baskets are woven by hand from local vines and white-washed following the craftsmen's techniques, passed down through generations. Each basket takes a week to complete.

Initially used for beer and grain storage, today Buhera baskets can be used as accents in interiors due to their unique organic shapes.
