Limited Edition. Please contact our Client Liaison team to arrange viewing. The Nguni Collection is inspired by the Nguni tribes in South Africa. Culture and nature meet in these pieces which are made in wood and cotton cord using a traditional webbing technique. Each design captures the natural forms of Africa and the shapes of the back rest recall the horns of African cattle. Good design is partnered with high quality handwork and the best raw materials that suit the application. Vogel's uniqueness is based on originality of design and hand craftsmanship. The production paradigm is one of matchless handwork alongside embracing new technologies. The wood connects with the natural world and is from sustainable sources.
